01 / OUR IDENTITY

A meme with a crown.

Meet King Potassium

King Potassium is a community-driven crypto project built around a royal banana mascot and the $KINGK identity. It brings the creativity of meme culture into a recognizable, approachable project experience.

The crown is our signature. The community gives that signature meaning: through conversation, original content and shared participation.

More than a first impression

The website connects token information, presale participation, account activity and support. The longer-term direction brings together community experiences, collectibles and token-related products.

This whitepaper explains the token model and development journey behind that vision.

02 / OUR AMBITION

One world. One royal community.

Built around participation

King Potassium aims to make participation easier to understand. Clear project information, an organized account experience and accessible support form the foundation.

The mascot opens the conversation; useful information and consistent communication keep it moving.

A shared direction

Creative contributions, community feedback and constructive discussion help shape the project story. The roadmap provides a framework for development, from the initial foundation to broader ecosystem experiences.

Official updates connect that direction with release details and practical next steps.

03 / THE EXPERIENCE

Clarity is part of the culture.

From curiosity to participation

Discover the project, understand $KINGK and follow a straightforward path into the presale. The website combines a recognizable identity with practical tools: a token calculator, payment instructions, order records and a central user account.

Project pages explain the token allocation and development direction. Your account keeps purchase activity, withdrawal requests and support in context. Community channels provide a place to follow announcements and contribute to the King Potassium story.

DISCOVER. CONNECT. PARTICIPATE.

A coherent journey under the $KINGK banner.

04 / ECOSYSTEM DIRECTION

A kingdom of possibilities.

Community at the centre

King Potassium connects a distinctive brand with a developing ecosystem of experiences. The direction includes swap concepts, staking research, digital collectibles, game integrations, merchandise and community initiatives.

Each product area needs its own specifications and release announcement. The roadmap describes the direction; product updates explain availability, participation conditions and how a particular experience uses $KINGK.

CREATE & CONNECT

Collectibles, original content, merchandise concepts and community experiences extend the mascot into new formats.

EXPLORE & BUILD

Swap exploration, staking models and game research focus on potential token-related participation.

05 / TOKEN STRUCTURE

Ten billion tokens.

10 BILLION $KINGK

Presale	5,000,000,000 $KINGK	50%

08 / YOUR WORKSPACE

Your kingdom, within reach.

An organized account

Your dashboard brings available token balance and recent purchase activity together. Purchase records keep order amounts, payment status and transaction details connected.

The withdrawal page lets you submit supported requests, while withdrawal history helps you follow their status.

More than a balance

Account security, giveaway claims and support are part of the same experience. Review each campaign for its participation requirements.

An account balance records website activity. A blockchain transfer has its own on-chain transaction record.

09 / ACCOUNT CARE

Stay secure. Stay informed.

Protect your access

Use a unique password and the available two-factor authentication option. Keep authentication codes and recovery information private.

Always begin from the official website when signing in or checking an order.

Verify the details

Before sending a payment, check the asset, network, address and amount against your own invoice. Follow the account order status and the relevant blockchain record.

For contract security, use the official audit report and verified token details as primary evidence.

10 / SUPPORTING THE JOURNEY

Resources with a purpose.

Five parts of one token model

The 10-billion-token allocation connects presale participation with the resources needed for a broader project journey. Presale represents 50% of supply. Marketing and Exchange Listing each represent 15%. Ecosystem Reserves and Team each represent 10%.

Marketing supports creative campaigns and outreach. Exchange Listing supports listing initiatives. Ecosystem Reserves support future development, while the Team category relates to the people building King Potassium.

ALLOCATION IS NOT CIRCULATING SUPPLY

Release mechanics, controlling wallets and circulating supply are separate details. Consult published token records for those specifics. This edition does not introduce a vesting schedule or supply-release promise.

11 / COMMUNITY CULTURE

A community with heart.

CREATE. SHARE. CONNECT.

Bring your own energy

Memes, original artwork, useful feedback and a welcoming attitude are part of the King Potassium culture. Participation is not limited to a token purchase: people can contribute to the project story through creativity and constructive conversation.

Telegram and X are the supported community channels. Start from the official website for current links. The ecosystem direction also includes community-impact initiatives, with individual goals and details to be communicated through project updates.

12 / CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE

A human touch in your journey.

Ask KINGK

The website assistant is a starting point for project information and navigation. Ask a focused question about a page, account feature or participation step.

For an account-specific issue, use the website support options to reach the team.

Talk to support

Visitors and registered users can use the support chat experience when available. Include an order or ticket reference and a clear description so follow-up messages stay in context.

Never send a password, wallet seed phrase or private key in a message or attachment.

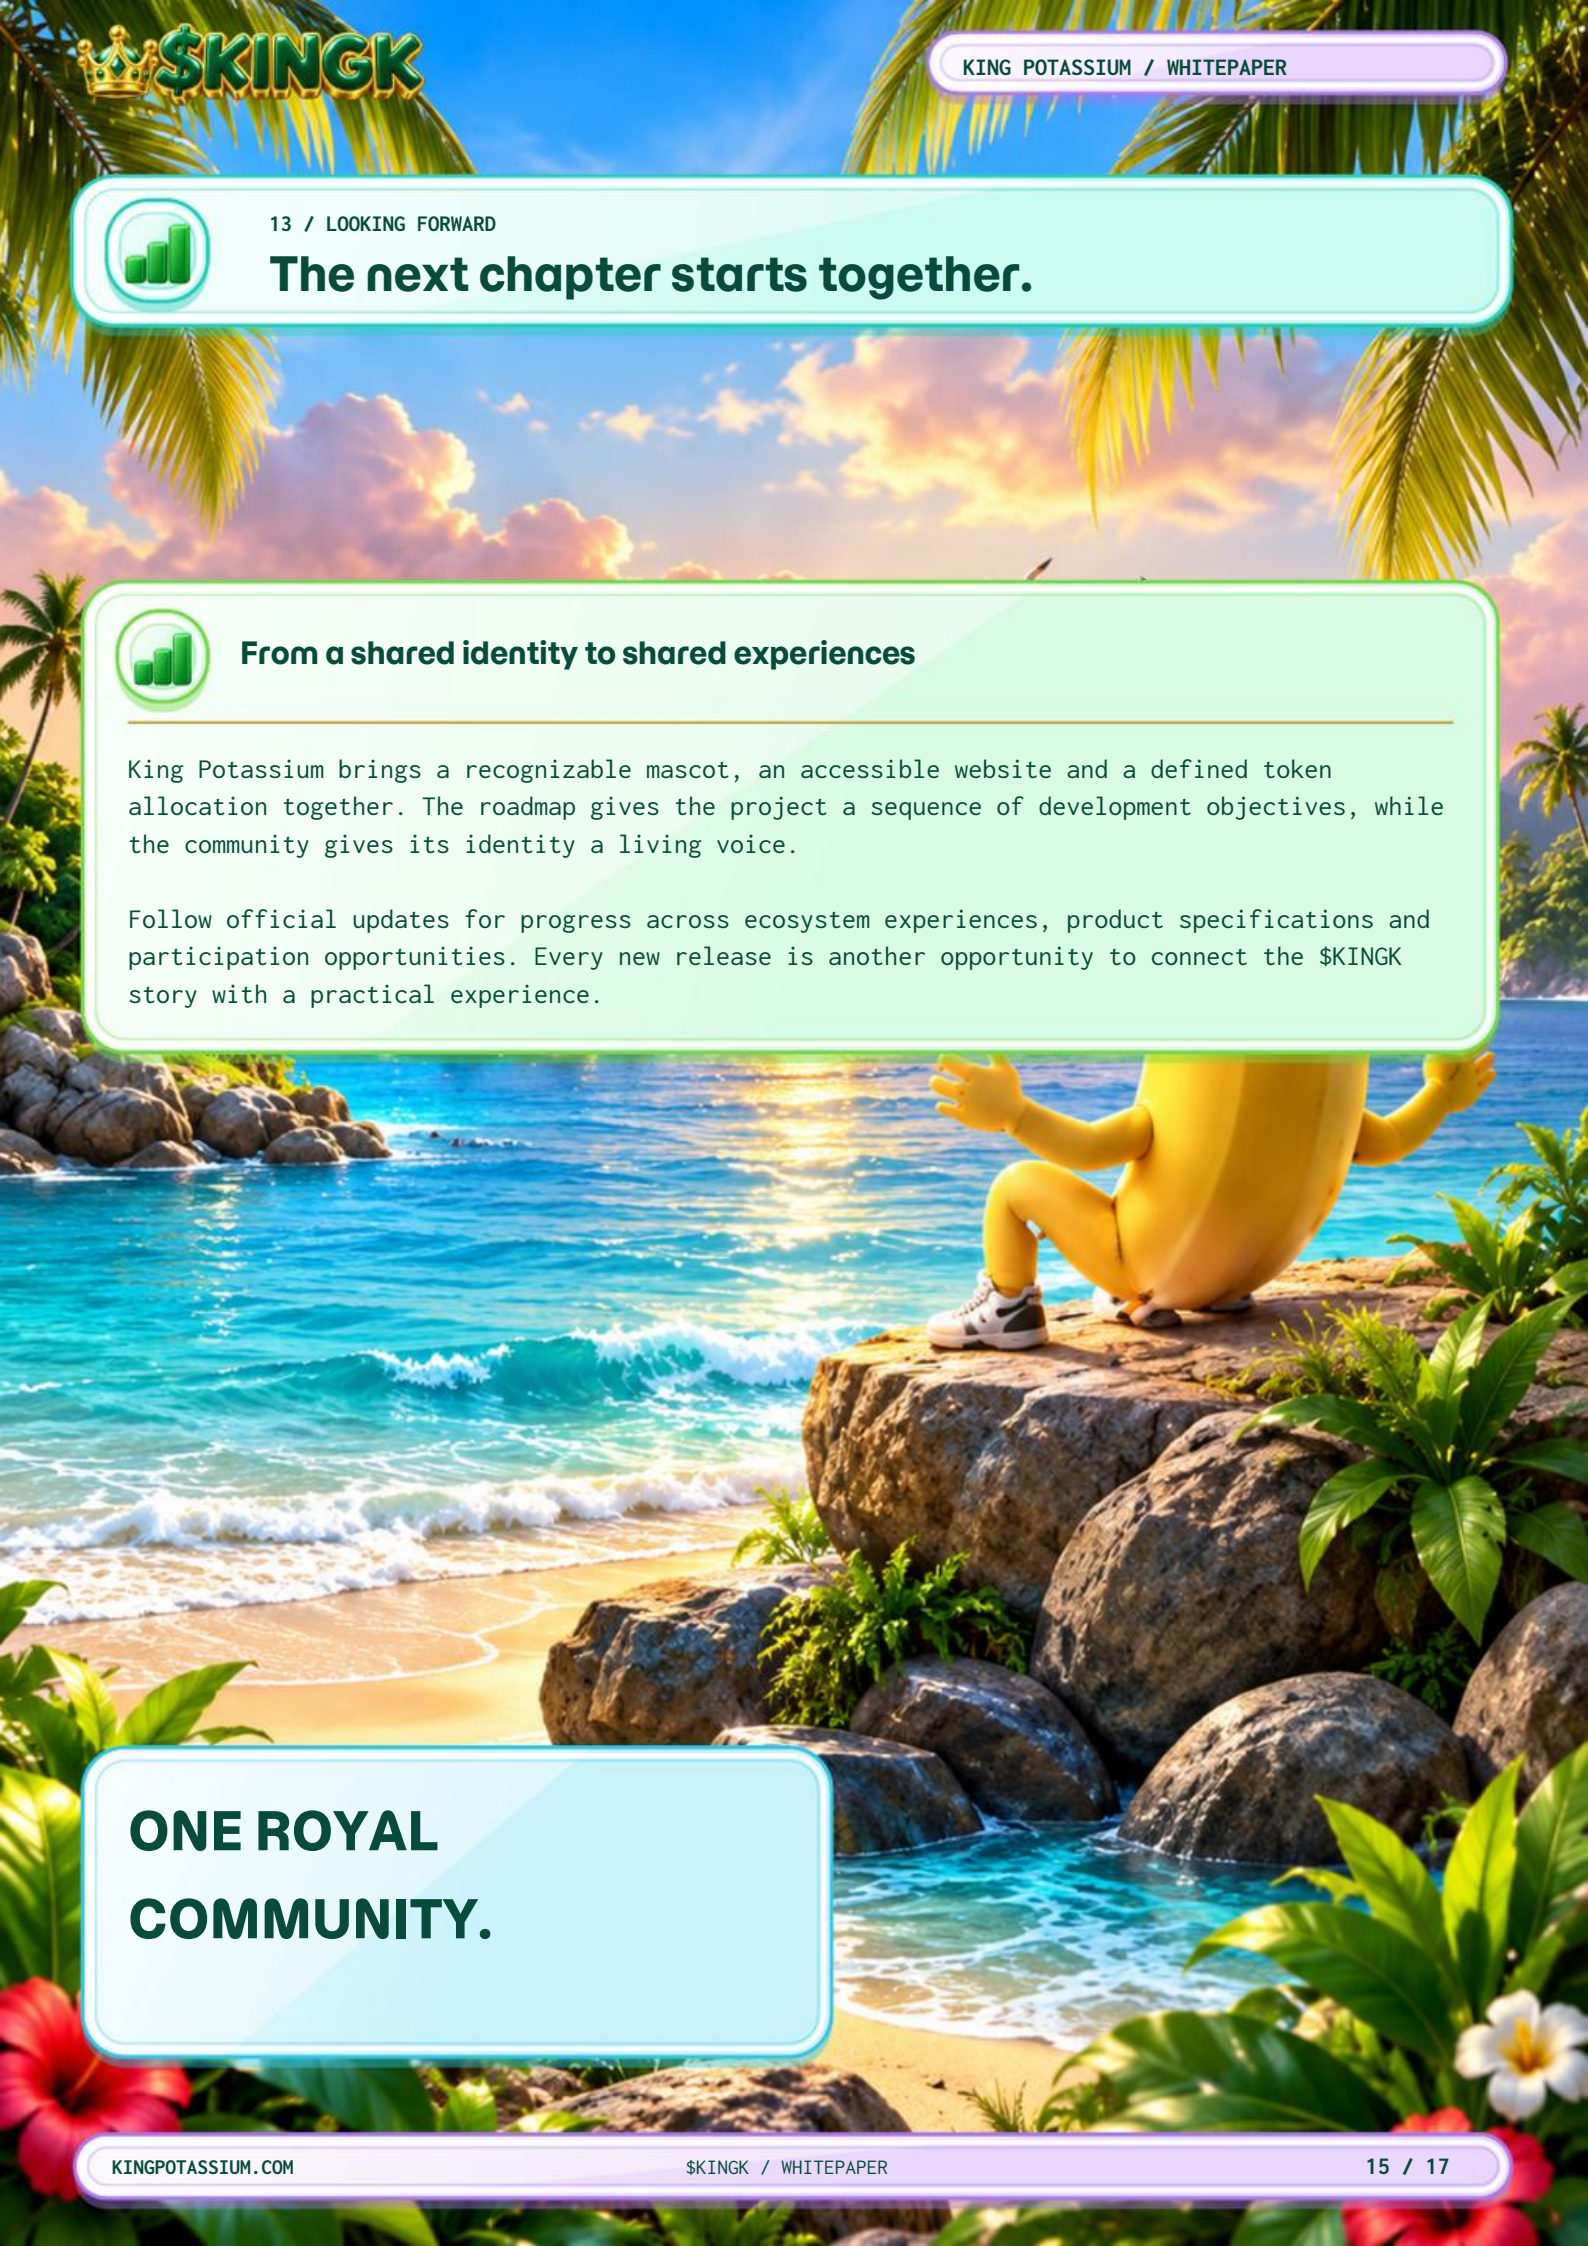

13 / LOOKING FORWARD

The next chapter starts together.

From a shared identity to shared experiences

King Potassium brings a recognizable mascot, an accessible website and a defined token allocation together. The roadmap gives the project a sequence of development objectives, while the community gives its identity a living voice.

Follow official updates for progress across ecosystem experiences, product specifications and participation opportunities. Every new release is another opportunity to connect the $KINGK story with a practical experience.

ONE ROYAL COMMUNITY.

About this whitepaper

Prepared from the supplied website source and the approved 10-billion-token allocation.

Roadmap and ecosystem areas describe development objectives, not completion claims. Checkout prices, accepted currencies and operating instructions can change.

Use current information

Review the website terms and privacy notice. Digital tokens can be volatile and participation can result in loss; consider your own circumstances and applicable local requirements.

No production mint or audit report was supplied for this edition. This document does not certify either an address or an audit result.
